Tracy Police Department – Where We Stand

The Tracy Police Department values its strong relationship with our community and strives for "service, integrity, excellence." We begin by selecting good men and women while seeking to reflect the diversity of our community. We continually invest in our officers in training de-escalation and to ensure that when force is lawfully applied, we provide any needed medical assistance. We are already increasing our training beyond standards set by California Peace Officers Standards and always strive to provide additional training to our officers and professional staff. Our officers are equipped with both in-car and body-worn cameras to provide an accurate record of our service.

We've received many questions from our community about where we stand. Please review our guide to view a comprehensive look at your Tracy Police Department.

Tracy Police Department Policy

The Tracy Police Department's policy manual is a living document that is subject to constant change. New laws, court decisions, City Council policies, new procedures and other factors which dictate the need for a frequent review of these policies, originating revisions where necessary and appropriate. It is recognized that no set of policies and procedures, no matter how complete, can hope to address all the situations that may be encountered. When encountering such situations, this policy manual will serve as a guideline, and should be employed with sound reason, judgment and discretion.
